Team up to confront a mysterious and monstrous entity that hovers over the town of Viscous. “There were times when I just wanted to throw my hands in the air and scream” “Dujanah hurts” 80 / 100 - PC Gamer “Dujanah m’a procuré bien plus d’émotions variées que ce que j’aurais imaginé. Et surtout, il m’a fait oublier tout le reste et vivre pleinement.” choc esthétique / 10 - Canard PC “Dujanah is gorgeous” Kotaku The Story ... “After the Lights” is a first person horror thriller playable in either single-player or cooperative 2-player co-op, with tense gameplay and several endings based on your decisions and actions. • You play as two investigators trying to expose a monstrous being with great powers, hovering above their town. • The game is built on a foundation of the terrifying ending you could assume for the game after a cutscene. • A visual novel that develops every step of the story, with gameplay interrupting the narrative. • A total of eight different endings. Story Blurbs: • A place that houses an ancient evil that’s returning... • Was there a more harmonious place... • And there were troubled times... About the Game After the Lights is a first-person horror thriller built around the theme of storytelling and visual novel. The goal of the game is to play through its first and second story in single-player or in two-player co-op with the second player controlling the heroine. “After the Lights” is about a town called Viscous in the north of the continent. It’s a silent and peaceful town with a population of about 300 people. Even the surrounding forest has been abandoned. There are no animals left, no small towns nearby and no guards. The power went out for almost two years and for that reason the town of Viscous is an eerie and dark place. During the power outage, strange and mysterious phenomena began to appear. Rumors

More informations “The elimination of professional football in England was a great blow to the game of football in this country.” - Andy Dunhill- England won 5-1 against Sweden in the first round of the European Championship in Copenhagen in June 1950. The remaining four goals were scored by Ireland, Germany, Belgium and Holland. “I had a meeting with Peter Ridsdale, the new chairman of Football League, two days before the opening ceremony. He wanted us to change our shirt, as the Milton Keynes City shirts were not black. Unfortunately I had to get caught up with Northampton who were playing Torquay the following day so it was out of the question. The deal was that the match was going to be mostly televised. I told him that Milton Keynes was very nervous about getting the attendance we needed. They wanted to give the gate money to another club in the area who had been struggling a little and I explained that it was national TV money. That was not successful.” - John Aldridge “I was adopted by Northampton Town and it was the best thing that ever happened to me.” - Andy Johnson “Northampton Town changed my life. From being homeless in 1991, I came to Northampton Town. I lived on the streets in 1991 and I got interested in football in 1992 and that was one of the football clubs I started supporting. I was homeless for four months. I lived at Peterborough for about the first six months and the Football League decided to buy a house for me at the end of 1994. The man who looked after me was called Gary Sumner and I liked him from the first day because he was a gentleman. He gave me a bed and pillow and a place to sleep. I was trained and on loan at Northampton Town from them in 1992.” - Ian Wright “Peterborough United played poor, heavy, sloppy football and I didn’t feel I could get game time. I was played two or three times in a first-team squad but I didn’t feel anything special. So I left and Northampton Town were the first club to come in touch and ask me to join them. A year or so later, Peterborough United
