(AP Photo/Muhammed Muheisen) JERUSALEM — Thousands of Palestinians from the Gaza Strip joined a demonstration Wednesday in the West Bank against what they say is Israel's harsh treatment of Palestinians. Hundreds of thousands of Palestinian protesters have been taking part in demonstrations across the Palestinian territories since late December, mainly in the Israeli-occupied West Bank and east Jerusalem. The protesters were demanding that the Palestinian government restore services in east Jerusalem after Israel cut water, electricity and sewage infrastructure in the city, and that they transfer their tax money to Gaza. Palestinians also want to prevent what they describe as Israeli impunity after the fatal shooting of more than 30 protesters by Israeli forces at the Gaza border. On Tuesday, Israel said it was ending its two-year blockade of the Hamas-run Gaza Strip. Thousands of Palestinians are expected to join celebrations in the crowded Gaza Strip that will include a display of resistance to the Israeli siege and a call for reconciliation with Hamas, which has been at war with the rival Palestinian faction Fatah since 2007. Hamas official Shaaban al-Hawari said the celebrations would proceed as scheduled, but warned Gaza may impose a few days of mourning on Thursday and Friday for those who have died during the protests. The protests are taking place during the Muslim holy month of Ramadan, which begins Thursday. Follow us on Please enable JavaScript to view the comments powered by Disqus. Twenty-six patients undergoing replantation of 21 amputated digital segments were randomly assigned to receive either a regional (interosseous compartment) or a general (thoracic epidural) technique of anesthesia. Postoperatively, patients and the operating physician were blinded to anesthesia technique assignment. The incidence of postoperative complaints related to the regional block was significantly higher than that associated with general anesthesia (P Donkey Island Donkey Island (also known as Lumpkin Island or Lotsawo, as recorded in a 1780 map) is an island on the boundary of the Passamaquoddy Bay and West Passamaquoddy Bay, at the entrance to Port Clyde, Maine. The island is located within the Passamaquoddy Bay National Estuarine Reserve and has been described as one of the most beautiful places in Maine. Donkey Island is a island, 6.7 miles (11.2 km) long, located off the New Meadows-Ellsworth border. The island's eastern side is rocky and barren; it is covered in dense brush that allows no access except by boat. The island contains ancient, free-standing bald pines and pitch pine forests. The island has a number of and rare orchids in its dune, forest and coastal wetland habitats. Hiking trails reach deep into the island's southern interior, where the dense and wet coastal heath habitat is particularly unusual. Many rare ferns grow here.
