 It consists of 4 sections as following: The "Normal" section, which is only for setting-up the schedule. The "Report" section, which allows users to specify a range of time in a day, and emit any events which fall within the specified range. The "Show Icons" section, which shows available days, and allows users to change them. This features can be realized with the "Delete" and "Change" button. The "Settings" section, which allows users to change the status of the calendar including the settings of the "Report" section. And, of course, the calendar itself. The "Report" section enables users to specify a range of time in a day, and emit any events which fall within the specified range. "Delete" and "Change" button allow users to change the status of the calendar, including "Delete" and "Change" button. With the "Check" button, you can know whether the schedule is currently set-up. As for "Edit", "Help", and "About Skeleton Calendar" button, it's quite similar to Windows Help. Date filter is available in the "Settings" section. Usage: In the "Normal" section, set-up the schedule. You can specify a time in "Hour field", and events which are to be emited. You can also specify the number of days in "Week field", and that determines the number of days in a week. When you set-up the schedule, you can hear beep, and the "Report" section appears when the time comes. In the "Report" section, schedule has now been set-up, so you can emit events in the schedule. As for the date filter, you can specify a date in the "From" and "To" field. In the "Settings" section, you can change the schedule including the "Normal", "Report" and "Show icons".
 You can use "Delete" button or "Change" button to change the status of the schedule including the "Delete" or "Change" button, and that changes "Show icons" section. In "
